Up to the end of the school year, the education system is now the first stage of continuous education. He aims to raise a child who is formed as a healthy and healthy person who is ready for school education. To assist individuals desiring to benefit the worldwide work of Jehovah's Witnesses through some form of charitable giving, a brochure entitled Charitable Planning to Benefit Kingdom Service Worldwide has been prepared [1]. Pedagogical education affects children in everyday life, games, classes, joint work activities, and dealings with them. He should carefully study each child, know his personal characteristics, abilities, demonstrate his pedagogical supervision, accurately evaluate children's behavior, work results, provide them with timely assistance, and be interested in his family situation.

LITERATURE ANALYSIS

One of the most important qualities of a modern trainer is that teachers and educators are distinguished from other professionals by their loyalty to their profession, superstitious beliefs, love for their profession, and unlimited loyalty to this profession. One of the most important requirements for a teacher is that he must have deeply integrated his predecessor, his methodology. His deep knowledge of his work and his theory increases children's interest in knowledge. This will increase the reputation of the teacher. Loving children is one of the most important qualities and requirements of their life, respect for everyone. Only a person who loves a child, who can mobilize all his energy and knowledge to educate children loyal to his future great homeland, can be a true educator teacher.

RESEARCH METODOLOGY

The skills of teachers, the environment, and communication with children play a key role in preparing children for school. First of all, a teacher's speech must be fluent. If preschool-age children spend most of their time with pedagogical educators, if there are errors and shortcomings in their speech, children can also absorb them. Therefore, the speech of teachers should be fluent, the world is late, the thinking is good, and the child should be the right one. He can work harder on himself to further develop his speech, promote more communication with children, read books to children, and tell stories during his or her leisure.

ANALYSIS AND RESULTS

In order for a trainer to better understand the methodological manual for teaching children in the teaching process, the trainer needs to simplify this methodology. In the form of methodological manuals that are interesting to children, children's learning will accelerate and their interest in knowledge will be improved. Up to the end of the school year, growth and perfection are formed in a developed country. After all, the preschool education system is the beginning of a continuous education system, that is, a stone-carved pattern. In the latter part of this, there are teachers [2]. I think we will not be misled if we say that the words of our great-grandfather Abdullah Avloni, "The power and evening of human thinking depend primarily on the upbringing of a teacher."

CONCLUSION

A child's well-being is influenced by the level of development of his or her mental functions, perception, imagination, memory and thinking functions, and habits of engaging in mental activity. A child should study analysis, namely, the ability to distinguish between those who are not important when they understand things (predictions), to summarize what they observe, and to group them [3]. A child should be intelligent, intelligent, poverty-stricken, and independent. A child develops an interest in his mental activity, which brings pleasure and joy. In many ways, the success of education depends on the degree of child speech, its vocabulary, its ability to speak independently, accurately, expressively, and grammatically correctly. By attending school in a child, changes take place not only in the order of life and in the main activities, but also in the social place. Child relationships move from a familiar peer and adult community, formed, to an unfamiliar children's and adult society.
