Introduction. It is known that young people are the most active stratum of society, they are the main factor and potential force that causes changes in public life and implements creative ideas. Supporting young people socially, morally and financially, fully realizing their rights, creating favorable conditions for them to take their place in society, you can turn them into a great force that decides the fate of the Motherland. Solving the problems of youth is not only the socio-economic development of the country, but also a guarantee of the security of the whole country. The youth policy of any country is directly related to the identity, values and traditions of this people, and in different countries of the world the policy in this area is implemented in a different form, content and style.

As long as there is a person, he must have human feelings. These feelings express in his heart that he belongs to a certain nation and country. In this sense, national symbols can be called symbols that enter the human body with mother's milk and leave with the soul. In this matter, nationality is clearly a priority. Although universal human characteristics play an important role in it, the basis is his native language, Motherland, native people. Emphasizing that national values are of great importance in the public and private life of a person, it should be understood that the realization of national self-consciousness reflects the process of his actions.

Speaking about development processes, "Today, activity in the modern information field is so intense, so swift that now, as before, one cannot frivolously think that this event happened far from us, that it has nothing to do with us" [1]. Because the 21st century has gone down in history as the Information Age. At the moment, the realities of life show that any product of development can be used for two purposes - for good and for evil. The threats that enter our lives today are mainly aimed at young people. Because it is clear to everyone that youth is a great power. The future of our republic depends on the management of the youth group, which makes up 64% of the population of our republic. We are talking about our tomorrow's life, about what our national image will be like, what values our young people believe in and what ideas and views dominate their thinking.

If we do not protect our young people from such dangers, which are alien to our way of life, customs, our holy religion and completely contrary to our national idea, if this situation is absorbed into their hearts and minds, it will turn the spirituality of our nation in a completely opposite direction and ultimately account, our identity, each We all need to be clear about what kind of nation, traditions and values that make a nation a nation, we can lose.

There are such unique masterpieces of our traditions, artifacts, feelings of honesty and joy in our religion that have come down to us from our ancestors, all of which today are more polished and show their brilliance in various forms. Because the thinking, way of life and spiritual views of any people or nation are not formed by themselves from scratch. Their emergence and development is based on specific historical, natural and social factors. "... noble virtues and aspirations are invested in the blood and bones of our people. The high spirituality inherent in its nature has protected us from disasters, floods and storms for centuries. Despite all the invasions and conquests, the fact that our ancestors did not lose their originality, followed the norms of spiritual life, strived for perfection today is an example for all of us and gives us strength" [1].

According to observers, by the XXI century, the role and importance of information technologies and information resources in the economy, science and in general in all areas is increasing. At the moment, the potential and capabilities of each state are measured on a global scale not by its territorial location, size and population, but by its economic power, military and communication capabilities. These opportunities enter the life of the youth of our country in various forms. Many literatures, publications and media say that young people, due to their interests and aspirations, fall under the influence of various threats. Internet sites, various groups, religious movements, the threat of "popular culture", drug addiction and much more. The work being done to prevent them from falling under these influences is bearing fruit.

The work carried out in the direction of the Action Strategy for 2017-2021 in the Republic of Uzbekistan directly represents the interests of our people. If we look at the work done this year in each region, we see big changes.

It should be said that over the past short period of time, a lot of work has been done to implement the Action Strategy, the results of which are reflected in the instructions of the President. In particular, 15 laws and more than 700 other normative legal acts were adopted aimed at developing all spheres of state and public life, the structure, tasks and functions of 16 ministries, departments and other organizations were revised. 20 bodies of state and economic management and other organizations have been reorganized. More than 2.7 thousand kilometers of roads have been built and repaired, 84.3 thousand new jobs have been created. A wide informing of the population, civil society institutions and the international community about the implementation of the state program was organized. [2].

Today, in whatever sphere of life of our country there are serious changes, the processes of renewal are deepening in all of them, in the economy, politics, public life, the spiritual and educational front and the minds of people, democratic values are in harmony with historical experience, scientific and philosophical heritage, advanced traditions and customs of our people, we will witness that the decision is made. Also, the leader of our country constantly pays attention to the development of our youth, mentally and physically mature, with modern knowledge.

Due to the newly created institutes and branches, the number of higher educational institutions in our country reached 81, regional branches - 15, branches of foreign universities - 7. Based on the demand and needs in the real sector of the economy, correspondence and evening departments were opened in higher educational institutions [3].

The purpose of these ongoing creative works is aimed at the well-being of our people. To fulfill these tasks, the strength of our youth will certainly be relied upon. In 2019, 4 Presidential Schools and 3 Creative Schools of a completely new content and form were launched. For the development of higher education, 19 new higher educational institutions were opened last year, including branches of 9 prestigious foreign universities. In cooperation with leading foreign universities, 141 joint training programs have been launched. In total, 146.5 thousand students were admitted to higher education institutions, which is 2 times more than in 2016 [4]. The well-being of the people is embodied in the content of all these works.

Also from this year, for the first time in our history, a system of preparing 6-year-old children for school will be introduced. 130 billion soums have been allocated from the budget for this, private preschool educational institutions are also directly involved in this process.

Conclusion. Our national customs and traditions, which have been honed for centuries in our people, are today reflected in harmony with universal human values. The whole world recognizes the material and spiritual heritage of our people. Therefore, each of us should feel like a descendant of great people, and we should carefully store this priceless wealth left to us by them, and pass it on to the next generation. This process is manifested in our every day, in our every work, in our contribution to the development of our country.
